THE BLUE BOOK OF COLOR.
A Roster of the 400 of the Colored Population.
Some time ago it was announced that the haut tons of California were about to issue a blue book containing the names and addresses of the society people of the Pacific Coast. It was to be a gilt-edged, cream-laid list of only those who sparkle on the upper crust of society.
The colored population, hearing of the contemplated publication, have forestalled it with an elegant souvenir called "The Blue Book of Color," and it contains the names of all the prominent society people of color in the leading cities of California and Nevada.
This publication has an elegant cream tinted cover with hand painted landscapes and is printed in blue and gold.
It is chaste and artistic and of exquisite design from a leading San Francisco publishing house. Carson is honored with a place in the volume, and under the head of prominent colored citizens of Carson are the following names:
Mr. Bradley, Spear st.; H. Bradley, Spear st.; Mrs. Miller, Prison Road; Miss C. Miller, Prison Road; W. Miller, Prison Road; Mrs. Jackson, Prison Road; Mrs. Bullock, bet. 3rd and 4th sts.; Mr. and Mrs. Dale and family, 6th st.; Mrs. Baily, King st.; Mrs. Parker and family, Main st.; Mrs. Harvey, Main st.; Mr. Wallace, Main st.; Mr. D. J. Harris, Main st.; A. Harris, Main st.; J. Harris, Main st.; Mrs. Miller, superb; Mrs. Studier, City; Miss Barrett, City; Mrs. Liggins, City; Mr. Eilde, Arlington House.
The "Examiner" Wins.
Early in the spring the APPEAL, desirous of stimulating a healthy rivalry among its contemporaries, advertised a fine Holstein steer as a prize for the best snake story, not over a column and a half long. To give its rivals a fair show, the APPEAL barred itself out of the competition.
A game struggle for the prize began immediately and some fine healthy snake stories were fabricated but none of them carried the true ring until the Examiner told its story of the snake in Mexico that shot forth a stream of fire from its mouth that burned a hole in a man or dog and also set the dry grass on fire. This will be recognized by all snake experts to be great work and clearly entitles the paper first publishing it to the prize.
The steer was sent down last evening by express.
We have since learned that Bill Hearst himself drew the original ground plans of the story and the upholstering on it was done by Allen Kelly, Sam Chamberlain and Noble, the scenic artist of the illustrating department.
The Examiner has one of these snakes in the press room and when it is time to start the engine the snake crawls up to the grate and kindles the shavings by spitting fire at them.
A $5,000 Challenge.
The Enterprise of yesterday has the following:
W. W. Harper, formerly foreman of the Con. Cal. Va. mine, but now of the Proprietary mines of Australia, writes a friend in Virginia as follows: "We have been informed that Mr. George Thaxter of Carson has challenged any man in the State of Nevada to shoot in San Francisco or any other place for any amount. I will back M. H. Burke of Virginia City for $5,000 to shoot against Thaxter at any place outside of his practice grounds, and if that is not enough state the amount required to make the match, and the money will be forwarded at once. Tell H. M. Burke to make him put up or shut up. Money talks, blankety blank."
W. W. HARPER.
Good News to Students of Vocal and Instrumental Music.
Professor Haymanson of San Francisco, is now prepared to accept scholars in both vocal and instrumental music, preparing them (if desired) for the concert or operatic stage. Address Cagwin & Noteware, Carson. j25m1

Aftermath of the Winter.

While the writer was in Humboldt county recently, he saw the ravines in the mountains filled with carcasses of cattle and they were sprinkled liberally along the Humboldt desert. In the mountains they had taken refuge under the cedars and died. Some dwarf trees had half a dozen carcasses under them. At an old hut called Dutchman's Wells, where there is no Dutchman and no well, there were six dead cattle lying in front of the door. The writer took a photograph of the spot. It ought to be inscribed, "Headquarters of the Nevada Dried Beef and Cold Storage Company, Miller & Lux Proprietors, Tom Rickey and Geo. Russel Resident Secretaries."

Deadly Lightning.

Reports bring to Carson from the West Fork of the Carson, the news that 100 tons of hay were destroyed and a Piute Indian killed by lightning Thursday. He was stacking hay, and within ten minutes after the storm set in he was a dead Indian and the stack was on fire.

The affair occurred near Dangberg's ranch, and is the third death of the kind within a month.

High Priced Stamps.

Statehood has developed queer people in Wyoming. Postmaster Thompson, at Warren, a small town in the Big Horn country, has been charging five cents each for two cent stamps. He says the high freight rates preclude the possibility of a reduction in the price of this useful article. Evidently Thompson is selling stamps for revenue only.

The Shooting Team.

Captain Galusha has selected the following team to represent the Carson Guard at the Caledonian picnic today: Thaxter, Saffell, Galusha, Alley, Wilcox, Cowling, Holbrook, Daugherty, Arthur Raycraft and Percy Parkinson. Members of the team are requested to report at the range at 11 o'clock A. M.

WHAT ON EARTH—Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing.—W.
